

It's regrettable the federal government, in this case the FCC, so easily forgets our country is the United STATES, plural, not a Communist state, the bureaucrats want, getting easy pay raises for doing nothing but bumming off the suffering taxpayers. Yet another of your corrupt plots to pre-empt state law, specifically Indiana's effective Telephone Privacy law is yet one more big government violation of state sovereignty where the real losers, as usual, are the people. The federal version will be a guaranteed failure, as usual. If it ain't broke, don't make it worse. Leave the states and people alone!
